Inflatable Pools & Gratitude

Lindsey Schmidt | Director of Middle School Youth Ministry

A few years back, a mentor shared her practice of daily capturing three things that inspired gratitude; looking for the easily overlooked moments and reminders of God's faithfulness. My journals are filled with people who filled my cup, praises for answered prayers, good weather, or our new inflatable kiddie pool for floating (my favorite). Recently, the Holy Spirit has been nudging me to look for Him at work when I feel frustrated, stressed, disappointed, or annoyed (What is there to be grateful for in needing to empty the inflatable pool, wash it and refill it every few days?).

Mentors in my life have shared their gratitude for terminal diseases. How their faith was refined and transformed during moments of frustration and pouring out. They speak of God's faithfulness even when things don't get better or work out the way they prayed. Only God can do that; redeeming pain and brokenness, refreshing our spirit and strengthening our faith in the midst of any circumstance. May your hearts overflow with gratitude for the easy and hard, restful and challenging, floating and emptying (that inflatable pool...).

"Rejoice always, pray continually, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus." 1 Thessalonians 5: 16-18

The Power of Gratitude

"You must have the same attitude that Christ Jesus had." - Philippians 2:5

Philippians 2 is one of the most powerful chapters in all of Scripture. In it Paul gives us a picture of how our lives are shaped by the incredible generosity that God has shown us in sending Jesus. After reminding us of all that Jesus has done for us he admonishes us to remember that the way we treat one another should flow out of having the same attitude that Jesus had. Now that is quite a challenge!

If you are anything like me most days you can sense that your attitude is anything like that of Jesus, but there is hope. One of the best ways to have an attitude like that of Jesus is to practice gratitude. Have you ever noticed how quickly your attitude can shift when you pause just for a moment and give thanks?

A few weeks back I was having a conversation with someone who wasn't very happy with something that we were doing at church. In the middle of the conversation, I stopped them and asked them to share one thing they love about our church. It was amazing to see the flood gates open and the entire tone of the conversation changed.

I want to challenge you to spend some time in your small group, with your spouse, or with a friend sharing what you are thankful for. Here are a few things on my list:

- I am thankful that Jesus did not cling to equality with God, but instead took on the very form of a servant to come and seek after me.
- I am thankful for my family, especially my wife Stephanie and daughter Peyton; they are truly my greatest treasures on this earth.

- I am thankful for the North Shore and the refreshment of a long hike.
- I am thankful for the health that allows me to run marathons so that kids will have clean water (you can support Steph and me by Clicking Here).
- I am thankful for the opportunity to worship our incredible God in amazing ways.
- I am thankful for a church family that trusts and allows me to use my gift of leadership.
- I am thankful for the many faithful Jesus followers who call WLC home.
- I am thankful to be a part of a church who understands that the mission of Jesus is far greater than any of our own preferences.
- I am thankful for an incredible staff team.
- I am thankful for the lay leadership at WLC.

What are you thankful for? The next time you sense that your attitude isn't anything like the attitude of Jesus, pause for a moment and name what you are thankful for and watch as your attitude shifts.

Peace,
Pastor Tom, Senior Pastor

South St. Paul Update

Joel Symmank | Director of Ministries

As of this writing, we've had worship on two Sundays at our new South St. Paul campus, both with over 140 in attendance! Our two church families are getting to know each other as we become one new family.

Building Updates

Painting has been completed on the entire first floor. New carpet will be installed in mid-August. New doors with key-fob and scheduled access will be installed by the end of June. Toward the middle of August, new audio and video systems will be installed in the sanctuary.

Campus Pastor Call

The Church Council has approved the Search Committee's recommendation that Woodbury Lutheran extend a Call to Pastor Anthony Celia from Water's Edge Lutheran Church in Frisco, Texas to serve as the campus pastor. Voting was completed on June 27th. The vote passed and a Call will be extended the week of the 27th. Please keep Anthony, his wife Tanya, and son Soren in your prayers as they seek to discern where God would have them serve His people.

Summer Ministry Plans

In addition to Sunday morning worship and Kids LINK, a neighborhood welcome is scheduled for the evening of Sunday, July 18 and National Night Out activities are planned for Tuesday, August 3. Vacation Bible School will be held on Wednesday evenings throughout August.

Public Launch

Sunday, September 12 will be the "Public Launch" of the new campus with worship and ministry opening up in full swing. Between now and then there is a lot to be done, but excitement continues to build as we look forward to this new season of ministry. Please join in praying for the new campus that through ministry there many would hear and receive Jesus' invitation, "Come, follow me."

Contact Joel Symmank at joels@woodburylutheran.org or by calling the church office at 651-739-5144 with questions or interest in being a part of the new campus.

Entering His Gates

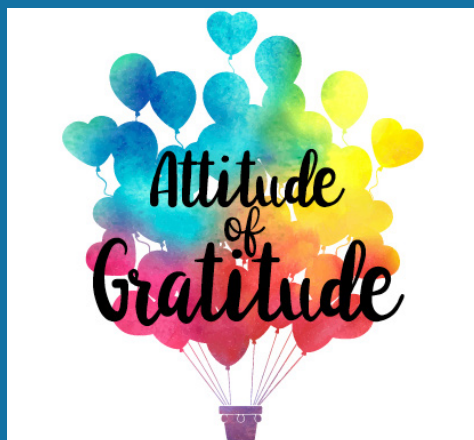

Karl Grant | Vicar & Valley Creek Campus Organist

"Enter his gates with thanksgiving; go into his courts with praise. Give thanks to him and praise his name. For the LORD is good. His unfailing love continues forever, and his faithfulness continues to each generation." - Psalm 100:4-5 NLT

When we enter our church buildings (the "gates") and pass through the doors into the sanctuaries (the "courts") at each of our campuses – or we join with others in viewing a live-stream service online – we do so because we know: The LORD is good! And whether those words flow freely in your heart or uttering them takes the last shred of faith that you have, be assured: When we gather in the name of our triune God, we all receive his gifts – forgiveness, salvation, freedom from sin's power and strength for loving and serving one another and the world.

This world is hard on all of us. But every weekend we have occasion for gratitude and thanksgiving, because we gather not just to sing a few songs and say a few prayers, but because the LORD is good and his faithfulness continues to each generation, including ours!

"Give thanks to him and praise his name."

Fostering An Attitude of Gratitude!

Nancy Schubbe | Director of Kids Ministry

Sometimes it's easy to get in the rut of feeling that our life is not quite as great as our friends or neighbors. It can happen to grownups and kids alike! One great solution is to practice gratitude.

Gratitude is a skill. An attitude of gratitude is a positive way of looking at life. Gratitude can increase our kid's happiness, teach them to be more empathetic and help them to be more thankful for everything they have. Below are several ways to exercise your gratitude muscles!

- 1. Help someone less fortunate. This could be your neighbor down the street, grandma, or someone you know who is in a tough spot.
- 2. Send out Thank You cards. Express your gratitude for those who have added value to your life, like teachers, coaches, dance instructors, etc.
- 3. Share your gratitude at the dinner table. Take a moment at dinner time to share what you are thankful for. Go around the table, allowing each family member a chance to vocalize their gratitude.
- 4. Create a family gratitude list. Post it on the fridge. Add to it when necessary.
- 5. Practice turning complaints into praises. Coach your children to reword their complaint into something that they appreciate instead.

"I give you thanks, O LORD, with all my heart!" Psalm 138:1

They Ended Up Teaching Me

Sarah Dibbern | OH Youth Minister & VC Kids Minister

If you've spent any time around the church, you've heard some version of this phrase, "Well I went there to teach, but they ended up teaching me". I can tell you story after story of when I've said phrases similar to that one. I've said it about my time working with the Navajo people. I've said it about the summers I spent traveling the Midwest, putting on Sports-Themed Vacation Bible Schools at churches. I've said it about the congregation where I did my internship in Western Michigan. But I can safely say that no one has taught me about thankfulness and joy quite like the youth of WLC during the pandemic.

During a time when so much of life was filled with uncertainty and negativity, I could show up on a Wednesday night and watch our students interact with each other, laugh with each other, and act like nothing else in this world really mattered. If I'm being completely honest with you, this was the respite that I often needed. You see, our students saw what happened when so many of the freedoms they were used to having were stripped away and they didn't like that. This means that whenever they were together, they were thankful to be together because they knew what it was like when they couldn't be. In those moments, these kids, some of whom are less than half my age, ended up teaching me more than I taught them.

This summer, our youth are able to go on their annual mission trips. Last month, our middle schoolers went to Duluth and spent their week serving the community up there. This month, our high schoolers will head to Northern Wisconsin to serve at Camp Daniel, a camp geared towards people of all ages with special needs. Before we leave for a mission trip, our youth spend time getting to know each other through three different meetings. Since we're blending a couple of campuses, we have these meetings so that the kids can get to know who they'll be serving alongside for an entire week. During our high school mission trip meetings, I loved standing back and watching our students interact and experience how thankful they were to be together and to be able to go on a trip like this again. These meetings contained an energy that I simply can't describe and it was amazing.

It's my own personal prayer that I have eyes for what teenagers have to show to us old people (... sorry. Older people. I suppose at 31, I'm still young in the grand scheme of things). I pray that I can look at them and see how easy it is to be thankful in all circumstances. I think that should be all of our prayers. That we can see the world through the eyes of a child/teens and allow ourselves to find joy and be thankful for the little things like simply spending time with each other. Laughing with each other. Doing life with each other. I think we should look at the younger generations and be able to say this phrase, "They ended up teaching me more than I taught them."

Pastor Paul's Summer Bible Study & Hymn Sing

Join us on Thursdays for the annual Summer Bible Study with Pastor Paul beginning on June 3rd and ending August 26th. We will begin with a hymn sing at 9:45am, the study will follow at 10:00am.

Even though Peter was one of Jesus' own inner circle, his contributions to the New Testament are often overshadowed by the Gospels and the writings of Paul and John. But Peter's letters are full of riches. Come discover them for yourself in this summer-long exegetical class through 1 & 2 Peter, led by Pastor Paul.

An Invitation to Rest

Tim Marshall | Pastor for Pastoral Care Ministries

Then Jesus said, "Come to me all of you who are weary and carry heavy burdens, and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28

If you've been with us at Woodbury Lutheran for any length of time, then you've probably heard us reference what it means to be a disciple of Jesus. God's word encourages us over and over to help others, to love others, to serve others. We read in Romans 12:13, "When God's people are in need, be ready to help them. Always be eager to practice hospitality." We know that as Christians, we are to show God's love to all we come in contact with, that they might also be exposed to God's love. How do we care for others when we are feeling like we don't have anything left in the tank to give, when we are in need of help ourselves?

That's why the words of Jesus in Matthew 11:28 are so important...

When we are weary and carrying our own burdens, when we are weighed down by our own problems, it can be so hard to help others. Jesus invites us to come to him to find our rest. But how does one come to Jesus with their burdens? Even though we go to God in prayer, our problems typically don't just suddenly disappear...In fact, God's word doesn't even promise to remove our burdens. But what God does promise is his presence through our challenges. Jesus says in Matthew 28:20 that he will be with us always, to the very end of the age. In fact, God's love for us is so great that St. Paul writes about it in Romans 8, telling us that there is nothing in this world that can separate us from his love that is in Christ Jesus.

Even though we know this, we still sometimes struggle. We may know the words of Scripture that remind us that God is with us always, but at times, we feel like David in Psalm 22:2, when he wrote, "Every day I call to you, my God, but you do not answer. Every night I lift my voice, but I find no relief." This world places a burden upon us. Our sins weigh us down. It can be hard to help others when we so desperately need it ourselves. And that's when Jesus invites us to rest in him, in the forgiveness he won for us. If you need a reminder of this forgiveness won for you, feel free to reach out to me and I will walk you through a personal time of confession and forgiveness, that you might rest in Jesus and have your burdens lifted.

Peace and Joy in Christ,
Pastor Tim

Thank You Father for Making Me, Me

Sara Mulso | Director of Preschool & Kindergarten

A favorite song in the preschool/kindergarten end of the building is the Butterfly Song. You might know it...

*"If I were a butterfly,
I'd thank you Lord for giving me wings"*

Lots of other animals from a robin, to an octopus, and even a bear, share what they'd be thankful for.

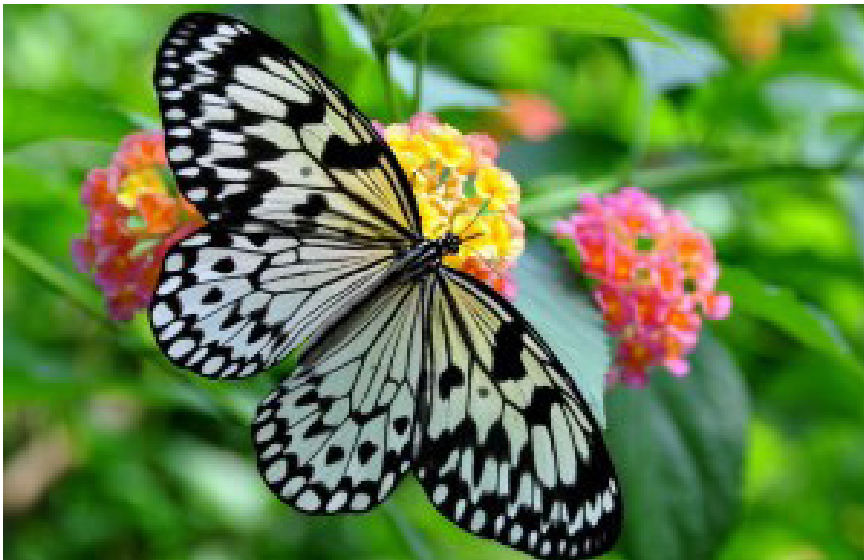

There's also the kid part of the song where children sing:

*"But I just thank you Father for making me, me!
You gave me a heart and you gave me a smile.
You gave me Jesus and you made me your child!
So I just thank you Father for making me, me!"*

There can be lots in our world that we compare ourselves to. It may be someone else's great vacation pictures or your neighbor's immaculate, and weed free yard. Sometimes we (me, you, us) can get so caught up in the comparing, planning, and thinking about that we forget who we are.

You are a child of God. Jesus was sent for you! So, when we get a little glum about what we might not have, think about the butterfly, the robin, the octopus, and the bear; who are all thankful for what they have. I challenge you to then think about all the amazing things that you have to be grateful for. It's probably so much more than what you even can begin to consider!

Be blessed as you enjoy this summer of God's creation and also celebrating who you are in this creation.

Church Council Update March

In order to continue to grow in our communication to the congregation, each month we will share an update from the previous month's Council meeting. Full minutes can be found here after the 10th of each month.

Woodbury Lutheran Church - Council Meeting
Tuesday, June 8, 2021
6:30-8:30am

Meeting Highlights

Corrie's House:

Over the last several months the Church Council has been in conversation with Corrie's House about the possibility of using a portion (10 acres) of the Afton land (we have 44 acres) to build a home for young women who are in the process of coming out of being trafficked. The Council has several follow up questions that will be processed in the coming months.

WLC Brand and Name:

The Council talked through the recommendation of the team to continue with our current naming convention. There was strong unity around the topic and a realization that this will not be the end of this conversation.

Policy Manual Review:

The Council has several tweaks and clarifications to make, but no additional policies were added.

Concordia, South St. Paul:

The campus has soft launched with a strong start in worship. There is much work to be done in bringing the two congregations together and our maintenance team and vendors have been very busy updating the building. The Call Team has been busy and will make a candidate recommendation later this week.
